

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Trustee KETCHUM, by unanimous consent, presented the following communication from the Faculty :

The Faculty and Instructors of the College of the City of New York have learned with deep regret of the sudden death of their colleague and friend, Professor George E. Hardy. Recently advanced to a new sphere of work, Professor Hardy had the promise of a long career of usefulness in the profession which he had chosen. His singularly elastic and cheerful temperament commended him to his companions and pupils, who were at the same time impressed by the force and vigor of his character. Many years of experience had qualified him to deal wisely with boys and with men. His success as a Principal gave assurance of corresponding success as a Professor. His enthusiasm for literature, and his firm belief in its elevating and ennobling power were an animating influence in the Department of English. In the prime of life, in vigorous health, and impressed with a serious sense of the dignity and importance of the work in which he was engaged, he had a right to expect that the coming years should bring him renewed opportunities for usefulness, ever-increasing respect and affection from his students, and honor from the community in which he lived.

Trustee KETCHUM, on behalf of the Special Committee, submitted the following communication from Acting Counsel to the Corporation, Wm. L. Turner :

LAW DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COUNSEL TO THE CORPORATION,
NEW YORK, June 30, 1897. }

To the Trustees of the College of the City of New York:

GENTLEMEN—I have received a communication from Mr. KETCHUM, as Chairman of the Executive Committee of the College, transmitting a form of contract containing descriptions of certain property to be acquired for the new College site, which embraces parcels covered by certain options filed with the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, which options include only property contained within sections of the original College site, as set forth in the original map heretofore filed in the Register's Office, the acquisition of which your body has recently specially approved. A considerable portion, I am reminded, of the ground so selected, has already been acquired by the city.

Mr. KETCHUM's purpose in writing this letter of inquiry is, first, to obtain my approval as to the form of the contract, and, second, my advice as to whether you may proceed to condemn a certain plot of five lots contained within the section referred to not included in any option or agreement under an amendment to the act originally passed, which amendment is contained in an act of 1897. Embraced within this latter question is the further question as to whether a new map, excluding the northwesterly block, must necessarily be filed before you can proceed to complete the acquisition of the plots which the Board of Trustees has, as before stated, approved. The plots so decided upon consist of the entire site embraced within the original map, except the northwesterly block between Amsterdam and Convent avenues, One Hundred and Thirty-ninth and One Hundred and Fortieth streets.

With reference to the first suggestion that the contract receive my approval as to form, I enclose the same with such approval endorsed thereon. With reference to the second suggestion, I quote from the amendatory act passed May 15, 1897, so far as it is relevant:

"And the said Trustees are hereby authorized to modify the map of the site selected so as to omit any part thereof, but in case any part of the site heretofore selected shall be omitted from the said site by the said Trustees, the authority to purchase the remainder thereof shall be limited to the expenditure of the proportion of such sum of eight hundred thousand dollars as the area of the modified site may bear to the whole site. If, within thirty days after such site shall be selected, and such map or modified map shall be filed, the said Board of Trustees shall not be able to agree with the owner or owners of such site for the purchase thereof as hereinbefore provided, the said Board may and shall, in the name and on behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, proceed to acquire the title to and ownership of the lands constituting such selected site, or such parts thereof as have not been acquired by purchase as aforesaid."

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the College, held on the 26th of May, 1897, the following relevant passage from the minutes is cited :

"Trustee KERCHUM moved that the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, President of the College, and Chairman of the Executive Committee be directed to proceed towards the acquisition of the entire site selected for the College, as per map on file.

"Trustee PEASLEE offered the following as a substitute for said motion :

"That the Committee heretofore appointed, consisting of the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, President of the College, and Chairman of the Executive Committee, be increased by two Trustees, to be appointed by the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and that this Committee of five be directed to proceed without delay towards the acquisition, by condemnation or otherwise, of the block bounded by Amsterdam avenue, Convent avenue, One Hundred and Thirty-ninth and One Hundred and Thirty-eighth streets, and the block bounded by Convent avenue, St. Nicholas Terrace and One Hundred and Thirty-eighth streets."

This substitute was adopted by a vote of 12 to 6, and thereafter it was decided that the Committee appointed under the foregoing resolution report, at the next meeting, more data as to whether the block not covered in the resolution should be acquired. The substitute thus adopted excluded the northwesterly block bounded by One Hundred and Thirty-ninth and One Hundred and Fortieth streets and Amsterdam and Convent avenues originally embraced in the map filed under the act amended.

It will be noted, therefore, that from the proceedings quoted in my possession it does not appear that the Board has finally determined not to acquire the whole site as originally proposed. Until such determination shall have been made, it is clear that the map already filed should not be modified by the exclusion of any portion of the site originally selected, because, when that is done I think that such map as thus modified would be conclusive, and the Board would have no further power to change it. If the map be not changed, proceedings should be taken for the acquisition of the whole of the site covered by the original map, either by purchase or by condemnation, or by both. So that my advice to you with reference to the second question proposed by Mr. KETCHUM is, that a new map need not be filed unless it is determined permanently to abandon the northwesterly block not covered by Dr. PEASLEE's resolution, but that if it is determined to abandon that site a new map showing the modification should be filed. This advice is supplemented by the further suggestion that when condemnation proceedings are resorted to they should embrace the acquisition of the whole site shown upon the map originally filed, if such map be not modified, and should include all parcels which the Board may not be able to acquire by purchase.

There is, however, one further suggestion which I desire to make with reference to this subject, which is not specifically covered by Mr. KETCHUM's letter, but as to which it is important that your Board should be advised.

It is with reference to the streets included in the site selected by the Sub-Committee of the Executive Committee and approved by your Board at its meeting held July 18, 1895.

The site proposed is described in a letter dated June 26, 1895, and signed by such Sub-Committee or Committee on Site, being addressed to the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of the College of the City of New York.

The description contained in this letter is as follows:

"After mature deliberation and careful personal investigation of the sites for the new College offered, your Committee unanimously report that in their opinion the lot or parcel of ground bounded on the north by One Hundred and Fortieth street, on the east by St. Nicholas Terrace, on the south by One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street and on the west by Amsterdam avenue, is the site most suitable for the uses and purposes of said College."

The site thus described and selected by the Committee on Sites was the site approved by the Board of Trustees of the College, and the map that was prepared and filed in the Register's Office shows the intersecting streets, that is, One Hundred and Thirty-ninth street and Convent avenue.

When the map is amended, if it be amended, the description of the site adopted in pursuance of the amendatory act hereinbefore quoted should be made to accord with the facts, and the existence of the intersecting streets which it is, of course, not within your power to take and close, should be shown.

Yours very truly,

WM. L. TURNER,

Acting Counsel to the Corporation.

Ordered, That said communication be printed in full in the minutes.

Trustee KETCHUM, on behalf of the Special Committee on the acquisition of a site and buildings for the College, offered the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, An agreement has been executed by the Title Guarantee and Trust Company of the City of New York, and is presented for approval to the Board of Trustees of the College of the City of New York, representing the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, for their approval and the signatures of a majority of the said Board of Trustees of the College of the City of New York, by virtue of which agreement it is proposed to sell to the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, the various pieces of property hereinafter described for the aggregate sum of three hundred and twenty-seven thousand dollars,

GENTLEMEN—Your Committee, to which was referred the matter of investment of trust funds, would respectfully report:

1st. That they find on hand eleven thousand dollars ($11,000) belonging to the Grosvenor Fund on deposit with the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company, represented by two certificates, one of nine thousand dollars ($9,000), drawing two per cent. interest, and one of two thousand dollars ($2,000), drawing three per cent. interest.

2d. One thousand dollars ($1,000) belonging to the Bennett

Prize Fund on deposit with the Mercantile Trust Company, drawing two per cent. interest.

3d. One thousand dollars ($1,000) belonging to the Kelly Medal Fund on deposit with the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company, drawing three per cent. interest.

Your Committee also find that there are sixteen thousand dollars (\$16,000) of the Grosvenor Fund already invested in bond and mortgage on premises known as Nos. 541, 543 and 545 Ninth avenue, at $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest. The owners of this property have recently made application to have this mortgage increased to twenty-two thousand dollars (\$22,000), at the same rate of interest. J. Edgar Leaycraft, a real estate expert, has appraised this property at sixty thousand dollars (\$60,000), and your Committee would recommend that six thousand dollars (\$6,000) of the above eleven thousand dollars (\$11,000) belonging to the Grosvenor Fund be invested on this property.

Your Committee would also recommend that the balance of the Grosvenor Fund, five thousand dollars ($5,000), and the one thousand dollars ($1,000) of the Bennett Prize Fund, and the one thousand dollars ($1,000) of the Kelly Medal Fund be invested on bond and mortgage, and if suitable separate mortgages cannot be secured, that they be consolidated into one loan.

Dated, NEW YORK, September 8, 1897.

Respectfully submitted,

J. E. EUSTIS,	} Committee.

The PRESIDENT presented the annual report of the Faculty as follows:

THE COLLEGE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

December 20th, 1897.

To the Board of Trustees of

The College of the City of New York:

GENTLEMEN—In compliance with the requirements of Section 19 of your rules, the Faculty of the College of the City of New York have the honor to herewith transmit to you their report on the condition and progress of the College during the collegiate year 1896-1897.

The following schedule, taken from the figures in the President's office, shows that at the beginning of the first term of 1896-7 there were on the rolls in the

Freshman Class.....	452 "
Sub-Freshman Class.....	969 "
	1,897

During the first term there left College, or were dismissed, or did not report for instruction, in the Senior Class.....	3 students.

Freshman Class.....	84 "
	512

During the second term there left College:

Senior Class.....	1 student.
Junior Class.....	5 students.
Freshman Class.....	61 "

At Commencement, June, 1897, there were graduated 94 students, leaving on the rolls 1,119 students.

In June, 1897, 1,855 applicants for admission were examined, of which number 780 were admitted, and in September following 34; making a total of 814 students. At the beginning of the collegiate year 1897-8 there were on the rolls 1,933 students, distributed as follows:

Senior Class.....	97 students.
Sub-Freshman Class.....	970 "

1,933

This is the largest number of students ever in attendance at the College, and the Class of '97 was the largest ever graduated.

During the year 1896-7 the deportment of the students was of such marked excellence (especially in the higher classes) that the President of the College—in whose hands the discipline is placed by your rules (33 et seq.)—has thought proper for the year 1897-8 to suspend the requirements of Rule 35 so far as it applies to the Senior and Junior Classes on the ground that they are practically able to govern themselves.

The usual high standard of scholarship has also been maintained. If any change has occurred, it has been in the way of improvement. It would appear that, as the limited accommodations of the building are well known, for several years the anxiety of the large number who desired admission has operated to make them prepare themselves better for the entrance examination. They have also, after admission to the College, shown themselves more eager to retain their places by diligent application to their work.

In regard to the teaching force, the salutary rules (Section 65a) recently adopted for the promotion of tutors to the rank of instructor, have been found to have had a stimulating effect, and have increased the efficiency of their instruction.

The institution was opened for the admission of students in 1848, and the first class was graduated in 1853. The faculty report for that year shows that there were on the rolls at the opening of the term (September 7th, 1853) 435 students. At that time the main building, with no annexes of any kind, was the only one we possessed.

Owing to the increase in the number of students, extra accommodations were in time deemed necessary, and sixteen years later, in 1869, the annex on Twenty-second Street was built containing thirteen class rooms and a lecture room. The report of the faculty for 1869 shows that there were on the rolls of the College 774 students.

In the twenty-eight years that have since elapsed, the number of students has increased from 774 to 1,933, and yet the only new accommodations since provided are the wing containing the workshop, chemical and physical laboratories and the drawing room; the small wing to the Twenty-second Street building; the sub-division of three large rooms into seven smaller ones; the division of the Chapel into nine class rooms; and the use of the library for class room purposes. While the number of students is—in 1897—two and a half times as great as it was in 1869, the accommodations have increased about one-third.

The covering of so large a proportion of grounds with buildings has resulted in an insufficiency of surrounding air space. On dark days artificial light is necessary in many of the rooms, while some are dimly lighted even in the brightest weather.

The object in making this comment, is not so much to show the necessity for prompt action in providing a commodious, new home for the College, as to indicate that the growth of the last forty years—a growth which will probably be much surpassed in the future—demonstrates:

First.—That the new site should give ample room for expansion, and,

Second.—That the plans for the new edifice should provide, not merely for the present and the immediate future, but for a longer period; in fact, that provision should be made both in building and ground to render another removal unnecessary.

With a knowledge of the mighty growth of our city during a comparatively short time, we consider it our duty to urge upon your honorable body, the acquisition at an early date, of the remainder of the block set down in the original map of the new site. Eleven of the twenty-eight lots already belong to the city, and the legislature has made ample provision for the purchase of the remaining seventeen. If these lots are not acquired, and the eleven belonging to the city are released, there is little doubt that, at a time not very remote, the city will be obliged to purchase them at a greatly enhanced price; meanwhile, as the block in question is the only one east of Amsterdam Avenue, and between 139th Street and 145th Street not restricted by deed to private residence, there is the possibility that builders may make it an eye-sore to the neighborhood, and still further enhance its ultimate cost to the city.

With regard to the new buildings, we think it proper to make a single suggestion. The main building, containing lecture and recitation rooms, should, we think, be placed on that portion of the site in which the air space will always be naturally most extensive, and where the greatest quietude will be secured. The frontage on St. Nicholas Terrace presents these advantages. We therefore suggest that the architects be required to regard this recommendation in their plans, and in case their plans are made, to change them so as to conform to it. The frontage just indicated has the additional advantage of affording a fine facade.

With thanks for the solicitude you have shown during the past for the welfare of the College,

ALEX. S. WEBB, LL.D.,
President.

ADOLPH WERNER,
Secretary of the Faculty.

Ordered, that said report be printed in full in the minutes.

site, the block bounded by Amsterdam Avenue, Convent Avenue, 139th and 140th Streets.

General ALEXANDER S. WEBB,

President of the College of the City of New York :

SIR—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 16th inst. to the Counsel to the Corporation, requesting him to furnish to the Comptroller of the city an opinion clearly defining the position of the College with reference to the application of the civil service rules covering the appointment of its president, professors, instructors and employés.

As the Comptroller has not communicated directly with this department respecting the subject matter of your inquiry, I send the answer to you that you may present it to him, when the occasion arises, as an expression of opinion in the premises, which is fully concurred in by the department's head, who happens to be absent.

The College of the City of New York is a distinct corporate entity, being a part of the University of the State of New York, and having in law no necessary connection with either the city or State government or with the Board of Education. It is true that the members of the Board of Education, with the President of the College, are ex-officio its trustees, and it is also true that it is supported by public monies. But so far as the former fact is concerned, it is not to be regarded as identifying the institution with that board or with the system of public education in this city in such a legal sense as to deprive it of its independent corporate character. (Chapter 264, Laws 1866, People ex rel., Burnet against Jackson, 85 N. Y., 541.) And so far as the latter fact is concerned, it is empowered to take by bequest and devise and is open to endowment, as are other colleges, so that whatever it may be in practice, in theory it is not wholly dependent upon public monies for its support. The question suggested by your query, therefore, is, does the fact that the College is thus supported wholly or in part by public funds make it a part of the civil service of the State or of the city, so as to bring it within the operation of Section 9 of Article 5 of the Constitution of 1894, which, so far as it is relevant, is as follows :

“SECTION 9. Appointments and promotions in the civil service in the State, and of all the civil divisions thereof, including cities and villages, shall be made according to merit and fitness to be ascertained, so far as practicable, by examination, which, so far as practicable, shall be competitive. * * * Laws shall be made to provide for the enforcement of this section.”

With reference to the construction to be placed upon this new section, it is to be noted that certain propositions, among others, may be deemed to have been settled by recent decisions. First, the provision itself is self executing. Second, although enacted in contemplation of existing civil service statutes, these statutes are not in their provisions conclusive either as to what shall be deemed to be the civil service or as to the method by which appointments or promotions may be made. And, third, classifications made by the Governor or by Mayors of cities in pursuance of such existing statutes are not, in the light of this provision, conclusive upon the courts which may still examine the questions suggested by the facts respecting the College. (Chittenden against Wurster, as Mayor of Brooklyn, unreported. In re Keymer, 146 N. Y., 226. People against Roberts, 148 N. Y., 360.)

Notwithstanding that the whole matter would thus be referable to the courts even though the Legislature had in express terms exempted the College, I am bound to take into consideration the practical construction placed upon the Civil Service Acts heretofore in determining whether the President, professors, tutors and employes are part of the civil service of the State or city within the meaning of that term as used in the constitutional provision above quoted. It will be noted that under the civil service statutes (chapter 354 of the Laws of 1883, as amended by chapter 410 of the Laws of 1884), as well as under the classifications adopted by the Governor or the Mayor of the city, the College has not been considered to be within the scope or purpose of the scheme formulated by those acts. It is to be further noted that it was not because the acts themselves expressly excepted the College that it was not included in either of the classifications made in pursuance of these provisions. The amendatory act of 1884, it is true, excepted departments of education in cities, but, as has been seen, the College was not at that time, nor has it been since, any part of an educational department of city or State. If it has been considered, therefore, that its officials were a part of the civil service of the State, they would have been subject to classification, as were other employes, so that the practical construction placed upon these statutes must be regarded as based upon the view that the College is not a part of the State or city civil service in such a sense as to bring it within the operation of these laws.

In a recent decision rendered in Brooklyn in the case of Charles E. Bryant and others against Palmer, it was determined that armorers and janitors of armories which are by law appointed by military commanders and are subject to military duties and orders, are a part of the military equipment of the State and belong to the military service rather than to the civil service, and hence are not subject to the civil service regulations. The civil service, therefore, does not embrace all who are paid by public monies, so that the term is not so far generic as to include all branches of the public service. Accordingly it has been held by this department that employes of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, which is a distinct corporation supported in large part by public monies, are not within the operation of this provision of the Constitution now under examination. I feel constrained to accept as conclusive the practical construction placed upon the statutes for these many years with reference to the College, which is wholly adverse to the view which would require its officials and employes to be classified and subjected to competitive tests as to fitness.

It was decided in the Clittenden case that the presumption was in favor of the legality of the exercise of the judgment of administrative officers in the first instance as to the practicability of competitive tests. In the same sense, the presumption arising from the practical construction placed upon these acts by those officials themselves with reference to the College, is controlling upon me in deciding the status of the institution in its relation to the civil service of the State and, in the absence of a decision by the courts to the contrary, compels me to the conclusion that its officials, though, perhaps, in the public service, are not within the civil service as that term is used either in the civil service acts or in the Constitution any more than are the janitors and armorers of armories. I therefore advise you accordingly.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) WM. L. TURNER,
Acting Counsel to the Corporation.

Present—ALEXANDER P. KETCHUM, Chairman, and Trustees EUSTIS, HURLBUT, KELLY, LITTLE, MACLAY, MONTANT, WEBB, and the Chairman of the Board of Trustees—9.

The meeting was held for the purpose of considering special matters relating to the site for the College of the City of New York and other necessary business.

On invitation, Assistant Corporation Counsel Turner, Mr. Chas. E. Lydecker, President of the College Alumni, and Mr. Jacob D. Butler were present.

After consideration, a bill in the following form, proposed to be submitted to the Legislature for its action, was unanimously approved by the Executive Committee, and the Sub-Committee on Site, after further approval by the Trustees of the College, were directed to appear before the Legislature and advocate its passage :

An Act to amend Chapter 168 of the Laws of 1895, entitled :

“ An Act to authorize the procuring of new grounds, and the erection thereon of buildings for the use of the College of the City of New York, and to provide the means to pay for the same, and giving authority to its Trustees ” and the several acts amendatory thereof.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows :

SECTION 1. Section III of Chapter 168 of the Laws of 1895, entitled :

“ An Act to authorize the procuring of new grounds, and the erection thereon of buildings for the use of the College of the City of New York, and to provide the means to pay for the same, and giving authority to its Trustees," and the several acts amendatory thereof, is hereby amended to read as follows :

SEC. 3. Upon the selection of such site and the filing of such map, the said Board of Trustees may, and they are hereby authorized in the name and on behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, to enter into contract with the owner or several owners of said site or of individual parcels composing the same, for the purchase thereof at a price or prices to be approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of said city at the reasonable value thereof (and not exceeding in the aggregate six hundred thousand dollars). The said Board of Trustees are hereby authorized to contract in prices which shall not exceed in the aggregate the sum of eight hundred thousand dollars for the entire site selected by the said Board, and should any part or parts be not contracted for, the said Trustees are authorized to make contracts for the remaining portions of said site, at an aggregate price as much less than eight hundred thousand dollars proportionately, as the area of the part not contracted for shall bear to the area of the entire site selected. And the said Trustees are hereby authorized to modify the map of the site selected so as to omit any part thereof, but in case any part of the site heretofore selected shall be omitted from the said site by the said Trustees, the authority to purchase the remainder thereof shall be limited to the expenditure of the proportion of such sum of eight hundred thousand dollars as the area of the modified site may bear to the whole site.

If within thirty days after such site shall be selected, and such map or modified map shall be filed, the said Board of Trustees shall not be able to agree with the owner or owners of such site for the purchase thereof as hereinbefore provided, the said Board may and shall in the name and on behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New York, proceed to acquire the title to and ownership of the lands constituting such selected site, or such parts thereof as have not been acquired by purchase as aforesaid. The proceedings to acquire such title and ownership shall be the same as or conform as nearly as may be to the proceedings prescribed in sections two to seven, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and ninety-one, of the laws of eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, entitled

“An Act to provide for the acquisition of sites for school buildings by the Board of Education of the City of New York,” the same as if the words “Board of Trustees of the College of the City of New York,” were used in said sections of said act in the place and stead of the words “Board of Education,” and with like force, authority and effect.

SEC. 2.—This act shall take effect immediately.
